RULES AND REGULATIONS

Explanation Of Registration Requirements Of The Non-Racing/Pleasure/Performance, HRA Stud Book Reg. And Partbred Standardbreds

EQUESTRIAN (pleasure/performance) REGISTRATION OF THE HRA REGISTERED STANDARDBRED (SECTION A)

On application to register a racing stud book Standardbred with the Equestrian Controlling Body in your state a Harness Racing Australia registered studbook Standardbred may be registered as an equestrian Standardbred with option to obtain non-racing status.

Only the owner or lessee of a horse may request registration under the Rules of the Equestrian Controlling Body, in some cases a letter of permission may be accepted.

The Equestrian Controlling Body may request information as stated in the Rules associated with the horse's registration.

NON-RACING STUDBOOK REGISTRATION (SECTION B)

A Standardbred may be bred to only obtain non-racing studbook registration so long as all Rules, requirements and fee payments required by the Equestrian Controlling Body are met.

A registered studbook non-racing Standardbred may originate from the following combinations:

- Two Harness Racing registered studbook parents
- One Harness Racing registered studbook parent and one non-racing registered studbook parent.
- Two non-racing registered studbook parents.

PARTBRED STANDARDBRED REGISTRATION (SECTION C)

A partbred Standardbred may be bred to obtain registration so long as all rules, requirements and fee payments required by the Equestrian Controlling Body are met.

A registered partbred Standardbred may originate from the following combinations:

- A purebred Standardbred with either Harness Racing Studbook registration or Non – Racing Studbook registration; bred with any other equine breed or type.
- A registered partbred Standardbred; bred with any other equine breed or type.
- Two registered partbred Standardbreds bred together.
